MAKES DISCOVERY DIGGING DITCH

STORY A ROMANCE

Acid Iron Mineral (non-alcoholic, natural iron) is taken from a great deposit found upon a poor farmer's place near Hickory, Mississippi and the story of this great gift of nature's which made the farmer rich and the medical world richer, an makes it possible for people to quickly treat stomach, digestion, kidney, blood and rheumatic complaints at home, makes interesting reading.

An old man while digging a mill race on the Horn Farm, ran across it. He was afflicted with an old fever sore and blood troubles which were considered incurable. During the several weeks' digging his feet and legs were wet each day as water gathered and he noticed that this water turned a reddish color caused by mixing of water with the vein of peculiar looking mineral, almost like powder, which had apparently laid for centuries encased in a marble-like casing of rock and clay.

The sore on his leg began to heal and by the time his work was completed his leg was sound and well. This was considered so very remarkable by the people of that section that an investigation was made and it was found to be like radium, gold, platinum and other wondrous secrets of nature—a natural compound containing inimitable properties in proportion no chemist has attempted to duplicate though a large sum was offered he who could accomplish this.

Today, like radium, which is used in curing cancers, x-ray work and illuminating watch dials, so Acid Iron Mineral has its many uses being a remarkable remedy used externally or internally and anyone troubled with blood diseases, eruptions, rheumatism, kidney, bladder or stomach disorders of any sort may wisely visit the nearest store and procure a bottle. A twelve ounce bottle sent prepaid on receipt of $1 by the Ferroline Chemical Corp., Roanoke Va., or send stamped envelope with letter telling what your trouble is for folder telling more about this great iron preparation, Acid Iron Mineral. For sale by Stewart Drug Store and good stores generally.

GIVES ADVICE TO SUFFERERS

"I had catarrh of the stomach in its most drastic form," says Henry Fenshacker, a well-known cement worker, of Allentown, Pa.

"This had spread down into my lower bowels and words cannot describe my sufferings.

"I hated to see morning come, for as soon as I got up I would suffer an attack of nausea and there would come a boring pain in my abdomen that would double me up like a jack-knife.

"My appetite was good, but I didn't dare to eat, for so sure as I ate even the simplest food there would follow those agonizing pains. I also suffered constantly from sick headache.

"I tried remedy after remedy, and I don't know how many prescriptions, but I just kept on getting worse instead of better.

"I had almost lost hope of ever getting well when I began using Tanlac. It was wonderful how quickly it relieved me.

"Now I have been entirely relieved and have no more suffering. Those pains in my stomach have disappeared, my bowels are as regular as clock work, my headaches are gone and I can eat heartily and enjoy every mouthful."

HEALTH CONDITIONS AT CAMP LEE

(Richmond Times-Dispatch) Disquieting reports have been freely circulated that health conditions at Camp Lee have been bad, that there has been shortage of nurses to care for the sick, that the men have not been adequately supplied with clothing, and that the death rate has been very high. Some of the reports spread abroad have told of men dying by the dozen every day.

Feeling that these reports should be met by a plain statement of actual conditions found to exist at Camp Lee, The Times-Dispatch advised the commanding officer of the camp, Major-General L. M. Brett, of the tenor of such reports, and that officer very promptly invited the paper to investigate conditions at the camp, at the same time tendering the fullest cooperation.

The results of this investigation, published in the news columns, should completely reassure anxious parents and the public generally. While there are a large number of the boys in the base hospital, there are comparatively few critically ill. The excessive amount of sickness is due largely to the fact that hundreds of the men drawn from rural districts have never been exposed even to the common diseases such as measles and mumps. These two ailments have in a few months sent 3,000 men to the hospital. Measles in quite a number of cases has been followed by pneumonia, but the proportion of deaths to the number of cases was small. Instead of many deaths, the average has been less than one daily since the first death occurred on September 25.

Reports of any form of breakdown for the treating or the nursing of the sick are entirely without foundation. The base hospital at Camp Lee is complete in every respect. It has a full quota of medical officers and nurses, and is under the supervision of eminent physicians and surgeons and has every form of equipment known to medical science.

Both in the hospital and in the barracks there is abundant evidence on every hand of the determination of the government to look to the comfort, the health, and the pleasure of the men whom it has called to serve the country. No one desires to see well-founded criticism withheld. Frequently such criticism leads to necessary reforms. However, it is not just to the government or to the men on whom is placed the responsibility of directing the training of the soldiers to indict them for omissions founded alone on misinformation or misapprehensions.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Headaches of any kind is caused by an accumulation of waste matter in the blood. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, which enter the blood through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent throbbing and distress called headache. If you are feeling your best, if you are covered or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or bad cold, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour and stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons. Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have headaches or any other distressing moment.

MANY PENNSYLVANIANS ON ILL-FATED TUSCANIA

ONE BOY FROM DUBOIS AND ONE FROM COALPORT WERE ON BOARD BUT NO REPORT OF THEM RECEIVED YET

CASUALTY LIST REMAINS THE SAME

Larne, Ireland, via London, Feb. 8.—Plewed together from various accounts this is the story of what happened when the Tuscania was sunk.

The 14,000 ton line Tuscania, last survivor of the Anchor lines' passenger ships, was on the last lap of the journey.

The troops knew that the northeast coast of Ireland was at hand and the nervous strain that had marked their mood during the voyage was giving away to joy.

The weather was clear and the sea calm. The Tuscania was steaming amidst a number of other vessels. Dark was fast yielding to darkness. The Tuscania's lights, for reasons known best to the commander, were out. Everything was serene. Uncle Sam's emissaries to Armageddon were passing the time in many ways, reading, singing, playing checkers, writing letters or peering over the railing into the sea.

Suddenly a signal went up from one of the companion ships. It was addressed to the Tuscania and it said: "Torpedo on way; Lay off."

From the bridge the wind carried fragments of a sharp command. Engine signals were heard. The big liner let out a muffled groan. Then, just as the ship was turning, came the crash. The next minute she bowed under with a heavy starboard list. She kept it up to the end and then killed and wounded more men than any other factor of the war.

"Lights on" came the signal from the bridge and in a second the staggering vessel was illumined by a myriad glaring bulbs. With that insatiable curiosity that takes hold of men in the moment of greatest danger, hundreds of Americans rushed to peer in all directions, hoping to catch a glimpse of the submarine. No one saw even as much as a periscope, according to all who landed here.

Everything now happened with flashing speed. But brief as it was that spectacle of 2,156 officers and men lining up on deck, standing at attention and then singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee" will ever live.

They kept on singing all through the battle for life that followed. The "Star Spangled Banner" came next and then with the growing tension and grimness and fury, airs of a lighter strain went up. "There'll be a Hot Time" and "They Got to Cut That Out" were favorites. Also there was considerable plain United States.

The torpedo struck amidship. The explosion was terrific but it did not rend the ship asunder, sinking it in a few minutes. Accounts vary as to how long she remained afloat, but it was long enough to prevent a heavy toll.

The ever growing starboard list made the lowering of life boats difficult on that side and on the other side impossible.

Rockets and red fire went up without pause. They served more for illumination than for bringing aid, for that had come with lightning speed. All around the sinking liner British torpedo boats were working feverishly to speed the rescue work. When they heard the Americans singing the British began to sing; the Tuscania's crew had already burst into "God Save the King."

Mrs. I. M. Test, mother of Mrs. Fred B. Lee, is very ill at the latter's home on Fourth St. Mr. J. B. Loman and daughter, of Philadelphia, arrived last evening to see Mrs. Test.

RUBIN AND RUBIN

Harrisburg's leading eye specialist are now at their office at Woodward and McPherson's Drug Store. Eyes examined free. Here until Saturday night. Open both evenings.

WOMEN SAVED

An Irish port, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Cottins and Mrs. Karson stew-ardesses and the only women aboard the Tuscania slid down a rope to a life boat when the transport was torpedoed.

In the boat besides ourselves were only two men, Mrs. Cottins said. "We were immediately surrounded by men swimming in the icy water. The men in the boat were hardly able to man it but we did our best. Soon the boat was filled to the danger point. We heard hundreds of cries for help, and we helped as much as we could."

Soldiers standing near by who heard Mrs. Cottins recite her experience shouted "yes, and you did as much as the best man in the world."

There were two Clearfield county boys on the ill-fated Tuscania, torpedoed in the Irish sea Tuesday evening last. They were Basil J. Spellen, of DuBois and Stanley C. Chesley, of Coalport. Young Spellen is a nephew of Mrs. Willis V. Ogden of Walnut street, this city.

David Rishel, of Punxsutawney and Edward J. Gillyou and Carl Pearson, of Ridgway, were also aboard.

The fate of these lads is unknown as yet.

By Ed. L. Keen
London, Feb. 8.—That Germany had information of the sailing of the transport Tuscania and other vessels with soldiers aboard was the belief expressed today by passengers of the ships which accompanied the torpedoed boat. A distinguished passenger who witnessed the attack said that three torpedoes were fired on his own vessel later Tuesday night. He believes the submarine commander had information of the sailing of the Tuscania through the German spy system. British naval officers were today searching for bodies of the victims.

The admiralty is carefully compiling a list of the casualties and survivors but so far no deviation has been made from the figures announced yesterday—210 probably lost and 2,187 rescued. The missing according to admiralty figures included probably 145 American soldiers.

Circumstantial stories by British Naval officers today indicate that at least one German submarine was probably destroyed during the attack. One British destroyer said it picked up a message which said "torpedo just missed me" and it gave the direction from which it was fired. Another destroyer declared it fired a depth charge at a submarine. The U-boat is believed to have been struck. Naval officials confirmed the stories that two torpedoes were fired at the Tuscania. The one passed under her stern.

FIVE MEN HURT IN PENNSY ROAD SPILL

(By United Press)
Pittsburgh, Feb. 7.—Five men were hurt when a freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad east of here rolled over a 30 foot embankment. Two of the injured may die. The injured are Wm. Moore, 32, engineer, scalded; Earl Hostetter, 27, fireman, scalded; T. S. Shaw, brakeman; Robert Rahl, brakeman, and a man who was riding in the caboose with Shaw and Rahl. The wreck blocked the main line of the Pennsylvania for several hours. The cause has not been determined.

The schools of Madera are closed until February 18, on account of an epidemic of German measles.

HURRY, HENRY

Washington, Feb. 8.—The keel for the first of a fleet of "death" pocket submarine fighters" was laid today, Secretary Daniels declared. "This contract was let only a few days ago," said Daniels, "so you see that Ford is losing no time in getting them done."

DOING UNDERGROUND WORK IN KRUPP GUN PLANT FOR SAFTY

(By United Press)
New York, Feb. 8.—The Krupp works—Germany's famous munition plant—is being put under ground for fear of airplane raids, according to word brought here today by passengers on the New Amsterdam from Rotterdam. A well informed passenger said the Germans were planning a submarine campaign in the Pacific. The unrest in the German army is increasing. American prisoners are treated worse by the Germans than the English or French prisoners are treated. Holland has only two months' supplies and she may enter the war unless the allies and the United States supply her needs. A rigid examination was given the passengers. The result of the examination, however, was not revealed. The rigid examination was made possible because the New Amsterdam did not stop at Halifax.

FORMER CLEARFIELD COUNTMAN DEAD

He was a former resident of Curwensville and Clearfield, leaving here in 1888 for DuBois, where he has resided practically ever since that time.

The deceased was born in Cochranton, Crawford county, in August, 1842, and was therefore in his seventy-sixth year. Early in life the family moved to Clearfield county, and Mr. Evans was engaged with his father in the transportation system in vogue at that time. An extensive stage line was run between Phillipsburg and Meadville, and the deceased drove stage for many years between Curwensville and Brookville. The country was largely a wilderness at that time, and many thrilling experiences were encountered, all of which remained in the mind of Mr. Evans and formed interesting stories in later life.

When the stage coach business had ceased to be of importance Mr. Evans engaged in the hotel business at Curwensville, and it was in this field that he won great success, conducting several of the well known hotels of this section. He was a very careful, painstaking landlord and made a large friendship among the traveling public.

He is survived by his widow, four sons and two daughters: Fred, of Kansas City; Harry, Los Angeles; W. T. DuBois; James, Camp Meade; Mrs. Gus Evans and Mrs. Geo. Pundt Oil City. One sister, Mrs. Sellow, of Oil City, also survives.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at Curwensville. The remains may be viewed at the grave. Mr. Evans was a member of the Presbyterian church.

LIFT FUEL ORDER IN SOUTHERN STATES

Washington, Feb. 8.—Fuel Administrator Garfield lifted the Monday closing order in N. C., S. C., Tenn., Ga., Fla., Miss., and Louisiana. Modification of weather conditions made this step possible fuel officials declared. The order given January 17 is effective in the remainder of the states with a penalty for violation of it.

WILSON WIRES TO MRS. ROOSEVELT

Washington, Feb. 7.—President Wilson today sent a message of sympathy to Mrs. Roosevelt on the illness of Col. Roosevelt. The message read: "I express my warmest sympathy and sincerely hope that Mr. Roosevelt's condition is improved."

ONLY EIGHTEEN MONTHS SUPPLY OF WHISKIES

157 Million Gallons Remain in Ware Houses According to the Government Statistics

Washington, Feb. 8.—Whiskey bills say that the odd 7,000,000 will be bers of the country, at their present clamorous stopping distilling on September 8. There are only about 157,000,000 gallons left in these warehouses.

This is the conservative estimate of government officials, who have been watching the rate of flow from the warehouses since the President's pro-rate of consumption, are drinking is the rate that all of the whiskey in the United States will be gone in eighteen months, the summer of 1919.

Each Drinks Gallon a Year

The normal per capita consumption of whiskey in the United States is about one gallon a year. This is a statistical way of saying the annual normal consumption is 100,000,000 gallons a year. At this rate the available supply, figuring from February 1, will last a little more than eighteen months, but expert authorities themselves out of a supply. So rapid absorbed during the eighteen months period and that all the whiskey left on August 1, 1919, will be in private hands and that it will not be much at that.

There is a comparatively large supply of whiskey in private hands which the experts cannot trace. It is expected that the supply held by consumers will increase in ratio as the stocks in the warehouses go down. This is where much of the odd 7,000,000 gallons will go.

When the lid was clamped down by the Presidential proclamation there were approximately 165,000,000 gallons of whiskey in the country. Since September 8 there has been no legitimate distilling and no whiskey can be imported. Beer consumption has fallen off rapidly under prohibition, but there is no diminution in the amount of whiskey that is apparently consumed despite the spread of dry territory.

Drop in Revenues

With the whiskey famine will come a drop in the government revenues of approximately $320,000,000 a year. The present tax on whiskey is $3.20 a gallon and the tax is paid upon the approximate consumption of 100,000,000 gallons a year. This revenue will have to be made up in other ways. The government, therefore, has in all but $500,000,000 more to collect in whiskey taxes on a basis of 157,000,000 gallons at $3.20 a gallon.

During the four months since distilled spirits have been withdrawn from the market for beverage purposes have been unusually light, according to figures of the Internal Revenue bureau.

While the whiskey stock is being rapidly exhausted production of distilled spirits for other purposes is apparently increasing. More than 10,000,000 gallons of alcohol were denatured in November last.

Miss Mary Westcott, a teacher in the Madera school is visiting at her home here while the schools are closed on account of an epidemic.

New York, Feb. 8.—Dr. E. Grimshaw, superintendent of the Roosevelt Hospital, gave out the following bulletin this morning regarding Col. Roosevelt's condition: "Dr. Martin Duell who saw Col. Roosevelt at eight o'clock this morning said he had a satisfactory night. He will be able to take nourishment at regular intervals today and his temperature is normal."

MUCH CONFUSION IN REPORTS ON RECENT TUSCANIA DISASTER

Washington, Feb. 8.—Despite the fact that more than two days have elapsed since a German U-boat sunk the Tuscania this government has received but scant details of the attack and only confusing figures of the missing. Dispatches to the war department said that 113 American soldiers and 97 of the passengers and crew of the vessel were lost, a total of 210. Naval department cables state today that 2,035 had been landed at various points on the Irish and Scottish coasts leaving approximately 362 of the American aboard to be accounted for. Of those landed 99 are reported to be in hospitals and assurance has been given that all are being well cared for.

The list of survivors and victims may not be completed for several days. British officials are combing for information all fisheries and the inhabitants of the towns on the coast in the belief that more will be added to the list of survivors. There were 2,177 aboard the Tuscania which included 117 officers and 2,060 enlisted men and 2 civilian passengers according to a revised list today. Errors in official cables from London are admitted. To allay the apprehension of relatives of men in the 107 Reg of Engineers reported as being aboard the Tuscania the committee on public information announced that it was the 107 Engineer train of the 32nd division which was aboard.

GERMANY CALLING OUT 16 YEAR OLDS

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 8.—Germany is mustering her 1920 class of lads of 16 years official war reports stated today. These boys ordinarily would not be mobilized for two or three years. They have not yet been called out but mustering has been in progress for some time, the report stated. Military critics believe that Germany's man power must be vanishing. For a time critics refused to believe that the 16 year old boys were being prepared for the trenches.

ROBBER MADE BIG HAUL

Some time after 12 o'clock last night a thief smashed one of the rear windows of the B. & P. passenger station and gaining entrance, succeeded in rifling the money drawer of its entire contents consisting of six measly pennies.

Chief McHenry was notified this morning and his investigation leads him to believe the burglar was a kid. The candy stores are being closely watched for a drive on penny wares.

NAMING CANDIDATES

It is reliably stated that Ashur Johnson, of McKean county, will be a Democratic candidate for Congress. Rumor also has it that John Dimeling will "cast his hat into the ring." The Democrats must figure that this is a good year for them. It is a good year for running, but for being elected, that is another matter.—DuBois Courier.

UNDER THE CAMOUFLAGE

Intimate War Experiences and Observations of LOWELL MELLETT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Dec. 6.—On the train coming from Southampton today was a New Zealander, lieutenant in the Royal Naval Reserve. He was in a happy frame of mind, having a two weeks leave on his hands after a year and a half at a Mediterranean station. His plans for spending the two weeks included getting married and having a week's honeymoon. The girl was waiting in London, having come by way of the United States.

The lieutenant was nervous, but it wasn't because he was about to be married. Having been to war, marriage didn't appear to frighten him. What worried him was the fact that he had lost his cap. He was wearing a civilian's cap, but it seems a naval officer is absolutely nude in anything less than the regulation uniform headgear. When he got off the train at Waterloo station he put the civilian cap in his pocket and started for the gate and his bird-to-be's arms, bareheaded.

The London papers give great prominence to the fact that Christmas approaches. The stores advertise everything that could make a youngster happy and some of them announce orchestra music during the pleasant period of holiday buying. But the prohibition against sending printed matter out of the country still stands. Can't even send Christmas cards. (Hope this reaches the right eyes.)

Food queues are again to be seen. Two or three hundred women stood in line before a King's Road butter store this evening—waiting for a chance to buy margarine. There was also a queue waiting before a liquor store to buy whiskey, but it wasn't so long.

Ray Hay, of Sunnyside, Wash.—he's now Corporal Hay, his friends at Pullman College and elsewhere will be glad to learn—came out for dinner on the understanding there would be pumpkin pie. It was an erroneous understanding. The maid had eaten all the pumpkin, thinking it was jam!

Hay is a "Canadian" soldier, now convalescing after an extended stay in hospital, the result of an adventure with a German bomb. He brought from France the latest story about "The Animal." "The Animal" is one name friends and admirers give Heavy Trevor, a Jim Jeffries sort of youngster who helps to keep life in one Canadian contingent from becoming a bore.

Heavy, it appears, is fond of fighting. As long as he is in the front trenches he is reasonably content, but to be taken back to the rear billets irritates him. He has found various ways of avoiding this irritation, the commonest being to slip out into No Man's Land just before the change is made at night and to stay there until all "danger" is over.

With a companion named McMassers, who is of the same exceptional disposition he accomplished this maneuver on a recent night. They slipped over the top and wriggled out through the entanglements, looking for a good place to sleep. Feeling about in the dark with their hands and feet they found a tunnel, crawled in for some distance and went to sleep. The break of day awoke them to make the startling discovery that they had been sleeping in the open end of the tunnel that faced the German lines!

London, Dec. 8.—There arose today the necessity to write a letter to a Member of Parliament. I asked how it was done. The man I asked placed in my hands "The Correct Guide to Letter Writing by a Member of the Aristocracy."

It's a wonderful book. A man with this book in his hand could never go wrong. It tells you how to do most everything correctly. Listen to some of the sub-titles:

"To a Young Lady Asking for Her Photograph."

"From a Gentleman Con-enting to be a Godfather."

"Applying for the Situation of Manager of an Hotel."

"From a Lady Declining to Give a Character."

"From a Gentleman to a Lady Unaware of His Matrimonial Intentions."

"From a Gentleman to a Lady He has Seen but Twice."

"From a Gentleman to a Lady Who is Doubtful of Being Accepted because of His Small Means."

"From the Father of a Young Lady to the Father of a Young Gentleman Disapproving of his Son's Attention to His Daughter."

"Favorable Answer to a Lady who has been introduced."

"Unfavorable Answer from Young Lady to a Widower with Quaint daughters respecting a Proposal of Marriage."

"From a Gentleman to the Father of a Young Lady, declaring his intentions towards his Daughter."

"A Lady's First Letter to a Gentleman to Whom she has become Engaged."

"From a Lady to a Gentleman complaining of his Coldness."

"From the Mother of a Young Lady to Her Daughter's Lover respecting a Quarrel."

"From a Gentleman to a Lady to Whom he is engaged telling her she has No Cause for Jealousy."

"From a Lady to a Gentleman accusing Himself for Unwarrantable Jealousy."

"From a Lady to a Gentleman breaking off Her Engagement Owing to a Change of Feeling."

"From a Married Sister of a Gentleman to the Lady to whom He is Engaged."

"From a Young Man excusing His Extravagance."

"From a Little Girl to Her Mother."

"From a Parlor Maid to a Lady excusing herself from taking a Position."

"From a Lady's Maid to Her Lover breaking off Her Engagement."

"From a Lady to a Dreamer postponing Payment."

I never did get to the section telling how to write to an M. P., but I started reading the section devoted to Correspondence Between Jealous Young Couples. Dearest Edith, for example, got a letter like this: "You must be aware that you are making me very unhappy by the line of conduct you are pursuing. At the ball last night you seemed to prefer every man in the room to myself as a partner. If you acted this way with the idea of arousing my jealousy, I will tell you it is a very dangerous game to play at," etc.

Intend to learn how to write to M. P., but I've got to finish the book first.

SOUTH ALTOONIAN DIES OF FRACTURED SKULL

Lingering four days with a fractured skull, Louis Bowman, aged 36, of 4040 Fourth avenue, South Altoona, died at Altoona hospital at 3:30 yesterday afternoon, the injury having been received while he was working in the Penny foundries on Saxton.

Bowman was struck by a shaft which collapsed about 7 a. m. Sunday. A cast was being lifted with a block and chain at the foundry moulding department when one end of the chain slipped off and then parted from the casting, striking Bowman's head with terrific force. He was thrown to the floor unconscious and later was removed to his home. His condition became worse and the man was taken to the hospital, where a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain was found. He was unconscious most of the time after his admission.

Coroner W. T. Blackburn was notified of the man's death and an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the accident will likely be started today, and arrangements made for an inquest, if necessary.

Louis Bowman was a native of Clearfield county and came to this city six years ago, entering the employ of the Penny. He was unmarried, and was a member of the Methodist church, the Improved Order of Red Men and P. R. R. relief association. His father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. George Bowman, Curwensville, survive, with three brothers: Howard, Clearfield; Newton and Lemuel, both of Millport, and two sisters. The body will be taken to Curwensville today for funeral services and burial. Bowman made his home with Arthur F. Reed, at 4040 Fourth avenue.—(Altoona Tribune)

EVERY MAN A VOLUNTEER

A soldier boy among the drafted men at Camp Meade recently became very ill from anemia. The surgeon in charge called the entire company to attention and asked for volunteers to submit to the ordeal of blood transfusion in the effort to save the boy's life. As one, every man in the company of 160 stepped forward. From the company the surgeon picked the five huskiest, among whom was Sergeant James R. Mullen of Curwensville. The strongest of the five was then selected. We are glad to see this spirit of sacrifice and love manifested by this company of what some choose to call conscripts and draftees. They are soldiers, every man of them.

A DELIVERY SCHEME

There is no problem which bothers the grocer, the butcher and the dry goods man more than the delivery of goods. It is a system which is expensive, often unsatisfactory to merchant and purchaser, and yet it appears necessary. The solution has not yet been arrived at but one Boston grocer recently started a plan which has helped somewhat. He began using so many large 20-pound paper sacks that a paper-bag salesman asked him if they were not being wasted in some unsuspected manner. Whereupon he said that these bags were used to save delivery service. After a customer has purchased numerous articles, if the clerk inquires, "Shall I deliver this for you?" the goods are almost invariably sent home by wagon. But if the clerk takes one of these large paper bags, begins putting the various packages into it, and says to the customer, as he hands her the check, "Now, while you are paying the cashier over there I will put all these parcels in one bag so as to make it easy for you to carry them," nine times out of ten she takes the bundle under her arm and carries it herself. Moreover if a few cents are deducted from the bill at the same time it is another incentive for the customer to be the carrier.

COURT NOTES

In the cases of D. W. Anderson vs. S. E. Maines Judge Bell made decree in which he discharged the rule to show cause why the judgments should not be opened. The defendant claimed in his action that the plaintiff owed him much more than the amount of same and the decree suspends execution of these judgments for thirty days and if he brings suit to recover the amount said to be due him within that time then leave is granted to ask for a further extension of this order as to execution.

In the case of Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to use of school district of Penn township vs. G. M. Passmore et al. G. C. Passmore, Judge Bell made a decree ordering that judgment be entered in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendants for $366.98, with interest from July 1st, 1916 with leave to the plaintiffs to proceed in this cause for the collection of the whole of the amount claimed, to wit, $785.77, with interest from July 7th, 1916, less the amount for which judgment shall be now entered under this order.

In the case of W. T. Smith vs. The West-Well Shoe company Judge Bell in his decree finds that "the officers entirely ignored the duties imposed upon him as to the proper conducting of such sale," and discharges the rule to show cause why non-suit should not be taken off.

In the case of A. G. Kassah, to use, vs. Annie Berosh the court believes "this case is one which should be heard in court when the jury or judge as the case may be, will have opportunity to see the witnesses and determine what are the legal rights as there presented upon testimony formally heard," therefore rule to show cause why judgment should not be opened made absolute, judgment opened and defendant let into a defense.

SHIPS TURTLES IN CARLOAD QUANTITY

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—Carloads of live soup are being sent east almost weekly.

The average car contains 1000 live peppy snapping turtles for bejeweled and broadcloth epicurians of the effete east. The average car weighs 20,000 pounds.

C. Wicklund, Twin City turtle soup king, realizes about $3,000 annually in profit from the business. It takes a force of men six weeks to catch and sack one carload of turtles.

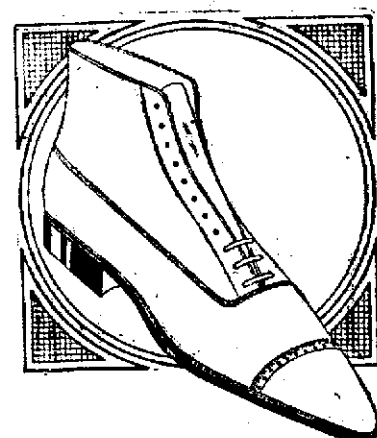

This will be the last year in which the turtle business will be good in Minnesota. Since the average age of the product is 300 years, newspaper readers are not likely to be bothered by a repetition of this story.

The turtle are caught by training a 400 candle power gas lantern on a surface of a lake. Ten to twenty turtles usually catch each other by the tails, and come to the light. Then a screw driver is used to pry the turtles loose from each other.

Photing a St. Louis team must have been a tough job for Miller Huggins but the chances are he will think it soft compared to the work of managing some of those high-geared Yankees.

Baking fans of Boston are beginning to sour on the big battlers. First off, Bill Brennan and Battling Levinsky performed a la cheese in a 12-rounder, and then Tom Cowler funny-juggled in a muck with Charlie Weinert.

Big Eaters Get Kidney Trouble

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out their weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set fire. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, never creates habit, and is a sure cure for all kidney troubles. Nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

MAKES DISCOVERY DIGGING DITCH

STORY A ROMANCE

Acid Iron Mineral (non-alcoholic, natural iron) is taken from a great deposit found upon a poor farmer's place near Hickory, Mississippi and the story of this great gift of nature's which made the farmer rich and the medical world richer, an makes it possible for people to quickly treat stomach, digestion, kidney, blood and rheumatic complaints at home, makes interesting reading.

An old man while digging a mill race on the Horn Farm, ran across it. He was afflicted with an old fever sore and blood troubles which were considered incurable. During the several weeks' digging his feet and legs were wet each day as water gathered and he noticed that this water turned a reddish color caused by mixing of water with the vein of peculiar looking mineral, almost like powder, which had apparently laid for centuries encased in a marble-like casing of rock and clay.

The sore on his leg began to heal and by the time his work was completed his leg was sound and well. This was considered so very remarkable by the people of that section that an investigation was made and it was found to be like radium, gold, platinum and other wondrous secrets of nature—a natural compound containing inimitable properties in proportion no chemist has attempted to duplicate though a large sum was offered he who could accomplish this.

Today, like radium, which is used in curing cancers, x-ray work and illuminating watch dials, so Acid Iron Mineral has its many uses being a remarkable remedy used externally or internally and anyone troubled with blood diseases, eruptions, rheumatism, kidney, bladder or stomach disorders of any sort may wisely visit the nearest store and procure a bottle. A twelve ounce bottle sent prepaid on receipt of $1 by the Ferroline Chemical Corp., Roanoke Va., or send stamped envelope with letter telling what your trouble is for folder telling more about this great iron preparation, Acid Iron Mineral. For sale by Stewart Drug Store and good stores generally.

Many a Cold Starts Over the Wash Boiler

Repeated trips into a cold yard cause many colds on wash day.

Wash the Fels-Naptha way and you won't have to go into the yard overheated. Fels-Naptha washes splendidly in water at any temperature that's comfortable to your hands. Boiling water is totally unnecessary.

With Fels-Naptha soap you may finish all the wash at one time, so that one trip out-doors is all that's necessary.

NOTED ARTIST WILL GIVE LESSONS HERE

R. H. Burfoot, the artist who recently gave an exhibition of paintings in the High School, finds it necessary to remain in this section the remainder of the winter.

Having been requested by several people while exhibiting here to give them instructions in painting, he has decided to organize a class in Clearfield.

Mr. Burfoot has had a great deal of experience in teaching, having had large classes in Pittsburgh, Washington, D. C., DuBois and Warren, for the past twenty years.

This is an opportunity the people of Clearfield may never have again, to receive instruction from a man of Mr. Burfoot's ability and reputation.

Mr. Burfoot will be at the Clearfield High School next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and will be glad to meet all those who are interested in the course.

GIVES ADVICE TO SUFFERERS

"I had catarrh of the stomach in its most drastic form," says Henry Fenshacker, a well-known cement worker, of Allentown, Pa.

"This had spread down into my lower bowels and words cannot describe my sufferings.

"I hated to see morning come, for as soon as I got up I would suffer an attack of nausea and there would come a boring pain in my abdomen that would double me up like a jack-knife.

"My appetite was good, but I didn't dare to eat, for so sure as I ate even the simplest food there would follow those agonizing pains. I also suffered constantly from sick headache.

"I tried remedy after remedy, and I don't know how many prescriptions, but I just kept on getting worse instead of better.

"I had almost lost hope of ever getting well when I began using Tanlac. It was wonderful how quickly it relieved me.

"Now I have been entirely relieved and have no more suffering. Those pains in my stomach have disappeared, my bowels are as regular as clock work, my headaches are gone and I can eat heartily and enjoy every mouthful."

Tanlac, the famous Master Medicine is now sold here by Woodward & McPherson.

HEALTH CONDITIONS AT CAMP LEE

(Richmond Times-Dispatch)
Disquieting reports have been freely circulated that health conditions at Camp Lee have been bad, that there has been shortage of nurses to care for the sick, that the men have not been adequately supplied with clothing, and that the death rate has been very high. Some of the reports spread abroad have told of men dying by the dozen every day.

Feeling that these reports should be met by a plain statement of actual conditions found to exist at Camp Lee, The Times-Dispatch advised the commanding officer of the camp, Major-General L. M. Brett, of the tenor of such reports, and that officer very promptly invited the paper to investigate conditions at the camp, at the same time tendering the fullest cooperation.

The results of this investigation, published in the news columns, should completely reassure anxious parents and the public generally. While there are a large number of the boys in the base hospital, there are comparatively few critically ill. The excessive amount of sickness is due largely to the fact that hundreds of the men drawn from rural districts have never been exposed even to the common diseases such as measles and mumps. These two ailments have in a few months sent 3,000 men to the hospital. Measles in quite a number of cases has been followed by pneumonia, but the proportion of deaths to the number of cases was small. Instead of many deaths, the average has been less than one daily since the first death occurred on September 25.

Reports of any form of breakdown for the treating or the nursing of the sick are entirely without foundation. The base hospital at Camp Lee is complete in every respect. It has a full quota of medical officers and nurses, and is under the supervision of eminent physicians and surgeons and has every form of equipment known to medical science.

Both in the hospital and in the barracks there is abundant evidence on every hand of the determination of the government to look to the comfort, the health, and the pleasure of the men whom it has called to serve the country. No one desires to see well-founded criticism withheld. Frequently such criticism leads to necessary reforms. However, it is not just to the government or to the men on whom is placed the responsibility of directing the training of the soldiers to indict them for omissions founded alone on misinformation or misapprehensions.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Headaches of any kind is caused by an accumulation of waste matter in the blood. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, which enter the blood through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent throbbing and distress called headache.

You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin and bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it drunk before breakfast or awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist or a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if you are covered or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or bad cold, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour and stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

OLD-TIMER DEAD AT OIL CITY

Richard Evans, a former well known DuBois citizen and one time resident of Clearfield died at the home of his son Harry in Oil City at 0:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

If Bill Carrigan refused an offer of $20,000 to manage the Red Sox last season, when the Sox were champions, how much kale would Lewiston's celebrated citizen demand now that the team is loaded with Athletics.

Buffalo boxing fans were disappointed when Gnuabot Smith failed to show up for a quarrel with Carl Morris the other night. Which shows that Bison fans are easily disappointed.
